LAKE CHELAN

This Summer, many teens from the Lake Chelan Valley will be given an amazing opportunity; an opportunity many people never have the chance to take. This August we will be traveling to the Kenai Peninsula of Alaska, about three hours south of Anchorage. While there we will assist Alaska Missions as they meet needs to break down walls, to bring people from apathy to curiosity about Christ, and find him irresistible. As the final frontier of the United States, Alaska is often forgotten about because of its isolation from the lower 48 states. This can often mean the needs of its people go overlooked and with a culture of its own many can be afraid to get involved. We however believe our Alaska brothers and sisters need our help.

Therefore, during our week in Alaska we will spend most of our time doing work projects assisting local craftsman as they help to improve the living conditions of Alaska locals. We'll be doing a lot of grunt work. Moving material, cleaning up work-sites and mixing concrete. As our Alaskan friends strive to improve their living conditions we will ease the burden of their bill by doing the heavy lifting. We hope our work will be a blessing to them, their families and the entire Kenai Peninsula as a whole. Every major change starts with a small act of kindness and we will do our part to provide as many small acts as possible.

As a youth pastor of over ten years I've learned first-hand how a trip like this can positively affect, not only the community we are traveling to, but also our students as well. One of the many pleasures of my job is to watch the dozens of lives changed through trips like this every year. As we plan and prepare for our trip, we ask for your support. Each person must raise $1,400 to cover the costs of transportation, lodging, food, construction and other materials. There are many ways trip members can raise money (different fundraisers and manual labor being the most popular) but we are also encouraging them to reach out to those around them who would like to personally invest in their trip. If you are able to help financially we appreciate anything you can donate. We also ask that you would be in continual prayer for our group and ask God to mold each of us as we serve in Alaska this summer.

Thanks,
